A Few Facts on the Other Sid . SOMERVILLE, TENNESSEE, June 18, 1858. MESSES EDITORS: One would suppose on reading the Memphis Post, that the unrepentant rebels of the South were a perfect set of fiends incarnate, and were constantly committing some Jacinous offense against the pence and dignity of the State of which they are cit izens, or committing murder, or some of her outrage on some poor, unoffendir u Union man or colored person; but wiore especially so in West Tenne see. While on the other hand it pictures the Union men, or rather Badicals, as perfect specimens of the "juvenile sheep," as harmless, innecent, and proffending as doves, perfectly incapable of doing any wrong whatever, and I believe it has day. Yet, notwithstanding the represcoundrels, low dov. n. disgusting, dirty set of dogs could scarcely be found anywhere outside the walls of the penitentiary. Yet, none so great with the Brownlow cli ques, and none but them and their as sociates in crime and filth are worthy to receive office in this community. I have been led to these remarks, 'Ar. Editor, on seeing a column and a half with flaming head lines, recently, on a little diffict lty between a Mr. Newton, a teacher of a colored ser-ool and a few boys of this place, a ad while I have no apole gies to offer in behalf of the boys, yet the sets committed by them are not the one-weatisth part as outrageous and coward by as has been committed by the Reeves es, and which this Memphis paper is so careful to conceal. But to a few of the facts in the case: Some time ago a quiet and un-Some time ago a quiet and un-huge hickory club, crept up behind, and, unperceived by hira, and wi theat giving him a moment's warring, commenced beating him with the club, and, after beating him sever sly, left hit a senseless ence at the election in March to defeat Reeves for sheriff. On another occasion, a short time before, three of the Reevesea hid in the bushes and waylaid a lady and her little daughter, and shot a dog that was accompanying them. Yet that was all right and proper, perfectly chivalric, as the outrage was committed by Brownlowites, and not by Johnson's friends, and was not the "fruits of acquittal." And we are further informed that the Reeveses are in the habit of prowling around the premises of some of their neighbors, on the Sabbath days and at nights, armed to the teeth with double-barrel shot guns and six shooters, for the purpose of either frightening them or murdering them. But your legal advertising fattener at Brownlow's crib will hardly ever raise a howl over that either, vertising fattener at Brownlow's crib will hardly ever raise a bowl over that either, as the prowling has been done by its friends, and not by the bloody Ku-Kluxes, which alters the case entirely. But yet there are other things still coming to light that would startle any community, not as well acquainted with them as this; but here, where the Reeveses are known, it is nothing more than everybody supposes But yet there are other things still coming to light that would startle any community, not as well acquainted with them as this; but here, where the Recveses are known, it is nothing more than everybody supposes them capable of, and that was the way laying of a person last summer, who was then living in Somerville, but on a visit to the country, for the purpose of assass than living in Somerville, but on a visit to the country, for the purpose of assass that he was particularly obnoxious to the non-voting portion of the community.

But yet there are other things still action of the Senate upon the resolution. Gentlemen may say, the order having been revoked, it is unnecessary that this body should take any action upon it. That seems to be the intimation of the gentlemen from New Hampshire. I look upon the shortest notice; their houses are closed up, and many of their stores, they inform me, are left without an occupant, containing thousands of dollars' to the clay of Paducah, Kentucky, some thirty gentlemen in number, were driven from their homes and their business by virtue of this order of Gen. Grant, only virtue of this order of Gen. Grant, only non-voting portion of the community, could sever expect to use to advance their political schemes. And then if they could only get the authorities to believe it, it would be a nice handle for them to use in getting a military force fastened on this community, as they fastened on this community, as they would thus have another argument to show the insecurity of the lives of Union men in this part of the county. Three of the Reeveses and a brother-in-law of them—one Abe Morgan—actually concealed themselves under or near the Covington bridge for that purpose, and remained nearly all night, the intended continuous engagement with his life by ac-road. I would like to close, but I believe I ought to give a little of the private his; tory of some of the Reeves family, at least, who, in connection with their tool (Newton), have been so active in getting the present military force stationed here.

And we will commence with the Honorable (1) J. O. R. Reeves, as he seems to have been the most active in the matter, and is the leading member of the family, not ceased to how over the killing of and will only have time to mention one Senator Case, or of Mr. Erickson, to this that is the fact of his having two living sentations and assertions of the paper to the contrary, there have some things taken place, and are now coming to light, within the last few weeks, of the most diabolical character. And committed, too, by its especial friends, and Brownlow's devoted followers and champions in this county. I mean none other than the notorious "Reeves family." A greater se' of unmitigated scoundrels, low down, disgusting, dirty wives. In the first place, he was divorced low pet will hardly have a word of con-demnation to say of that either, as it would at the same time be condemning the acts of its especial friends, Mister Cuffy and Miss Dinah. There is one more of the Reeveses that I will have to give a passing notice before closing, and that one is the old Judge's little aon Billy, who undertook last spring to white-wash the character of the family, through the columns of the Somerville Faicon; or rather, I might say, he was chosen by the family as their especial champion, he the family as their especial champion, he having been a Confederate soldier at one time. But there was nothing in his histime. tory to show that he ever was any credit to his profession as a soldier—as the only engagement he ever was known to have been in was in a fight at a ____, in which he received a lick on the head with a piece of scantling, from the effects of which he was insune for several months. There might be volumes written of the same kind, but this will serve to show the public the character of the family offending citizen of the co unty was busy at work, preparing to rebuild a fence that had been thrown down by these same Reevess, when one of them (Paul Reeves), armed with a six a booter and a the public the character of the family that pretends to represent all the loyalty in the county. And I can assure you that nothing has been overdrawn or in any manner colored, as every statement contained in this communication can be proven, if necessary, and will be if they are not more quiet in the future. And what seems most strange, is that they

of Hon. L. W. Powell, of Kentucky, in the United States Senate, on the resolutions relating to Gen. Grant's order cruelly expelling the Hebrews from his Department of Tennessee: Mr. President, the day after the reso-lution was introduced, I understood from Gen. Halleck that the matter had been laid before the President, and that the order had been promptly revoked. The conduct of the President and of the commander-in-chief in thus promptly countermanding such an outrageous, un-constitutional and inhuman order meets with my hearty approval. I commend constitutional and inhuman order meets with my hearty approval. I commend them for it.

The order having been countermanded, I desire to move that the last clause of the resolution be stricken out; and after that is stricken out, I desire to have the action of the Senate upon the resolution. virtue of this order of Gen. Grant, only having the short notice of four and twenty hours; that the Hebrew women and children of that city were expelled under that order; that there was not a Hebrew left, man, woman or child, except two women, who were prostrate on beds of sickness. I have the evidence before me, set forth in a petition, and attested by some twelve or fourteen of the most respectable Union citizens of the city of Paducah, among others the surveyor of the port, that those Hebrews of Paducah had at no time been engaged in trade within the active lines of General Grant; virtue of this order of Gen. Grant, only within the active lines of General Grant; that they had all the while been engaged in legitimate business at their homes, and that there was but one Hebrew, a resident of Paducah, who had gone out of the State into the cotton revictim only escaping with his life by accidentally returning to town another gion, and that one was not at home, and gion, and that one was not at nome, and consequently was not expelled from his residence by this rathless order.

Mr. President, if we tamely submit to allow the military power thus to encroach on the rights of the citizen, we shall be setting a bad and most pernicious exam-ple to those in command of our army. We should administer to those in com-mand of our armies the sternest rebuke for such fingrant outrages upon the rights of the citizen. These people are repre-sented by the most respectable citizens of Paducah to be loyal men. Many ofs them are men who were not engaged in commerce. They were mechanics, at-tending to their daily avocations at their homes. In my judgment, it is incum-bent on this Secate, as the matter is before them, to pass the resolution, and let General Grant and all the other military commanders know that they are not to encroach upon the rights and privileges of the peaceful loyal citizens of the country. Pass the resolution, and the example will be to the great merriment of the creating the country. down and trodden under foot torough-out the entire country by the executive and military power. We have submit-ted already too long and tamely to the encroachments of the military upon the civil rights of the citizen. Many of these Hebrews who were expelled from Paducah were known to me for many years as highly honorable and loyal citi-zens. This order expells them as a class years as the gray of the part of the part issuing the order. It may be said that some Hebrews in his department had been guilty of illegal traffic. If so, expel them. I do not wish to shield a Jew or a Gentile from just punishment for the infraction of the law. He should are not more quiet in the future. And what seems most strange, is that they should have any followers. Yet there are a few that will even play the lieks, spittle and crawl in the dust at their feet, and second them in their endeavors at insulting the community and covering up their outrages; foremost of whom is the postmaster in this place.

The do not wish to shield a Jew or a Gentile from jost punishment for the infraction of the law. He should have directed his order to the offenders, and should have punished them; but, so far from doing that, he punishes a whole people as a class; without specific charge, bearing or trial, he drives out inoffensive, loyal people, men, women issued it; but, sir, we owe it to ourselves, we owe it to the civil and religious lib-erty of the citizen to put our condemna-

in the mildest terms possible. It is my duty, in vindication of the rights of my constituents—these Hebrews who have been so grossly and cruelly wronged—to urge this resolution to its passage. It will be a landmark in the future to teach these military gentlemen that they are not thus to encroach on the civil and religious rights of the citizen, whether he be Jew or Gentile. I should be the last man here who would wish to visit with censure any commander of any department of the army for justly punishing those who had been violaters of the law in those who had been violaters of the law in his department; and I trust that it shall be the last to palliate or excuse any commander, however meritorious his conduct in other matters may have been, who thus strikes cruelly and inhumanely at a class of people, driving them from their homes, men, women and children, upon the shortest notice; their houses are closed up, and many of their stores, they inform me, are left without an occupant, containing thousands of dollars' worth of goods.

citizens of this nation, or for any other constituents that I have. I hope that the amendment I propose may be adopted and that part of the resolution asking the President to countermand the order (for the Commander-in-Chief, to his his honor be it spoken, has most promptly revoked it) be stricken out, and let the preamble and resolution, censuring this order and denouncing it as illegal, cruel, and inhu-man, be passed by the Senate.

Thurneck's Ready Relief for Damaged Virtue.

Another amusing scene occurred in Esquire Thurneck's office, on Deaderick street, Tuesday, which attracted a large crowd of spectators. Richard Frazier, a timorous looking sort of a darky, was timorous looking sort of a darky, was arraigned upon the charge of bastardy, preferred by a negro girl, Matilda Harding, whose dirty apparel, coarse physiognomy, and atrociously ugly little pickaning, were not altogether in keeping with the refined taste of the darky Lothario. Having pleaded guilty, Richard was informed that he would either have to give bail for his appearance before th Board of County Commissioners or go to jail. He replied that "he didn't like to do dat," and was then told that he might compromise the matter by marriage. This alternative he heard with the most intense disgust, but after musing for some time upon the prospect of gloomy walls, in which, as he expressed it, he "might have to linger a strandnery long time," he remarked that he "would take de gal." where the twain were made one flesh-To the great merriment of the crowd of the greatest importance, particularly at this time, when the constitutional rights of the citizens are being stricken down and trodden under foot throughout the entire country by the executive and military power. We have submitstopping to look behind, made his way rapidly to Cedar street, where he was lost to view by plunging into some back kitchen. Matilda on reaching the door glanced around to see whether her lord and master was following, but expressed no surprise at his disappearance, and slowly wended her way to the public square.
